Database of the Month

Take a peek at MedlinePlus. Accurate, free, and up-to-date information on medications, disorders, and illnesses as well as tips to stay healthy from the National Institute of Health and the U.S. National Library of Medicine. It's like Web MD without the ads and with information you can trust.

The screenshot shows the MedlinePlus website. At the top, it says "U.S. National Library of Medicine". The MedlinePlus logo is prominent, with the tagline "Trusted Health Information for You". A search bar is located on the right, with a "GO" button. Below the search bar are links for "About MedlinePlus", "Site Map", "FAQs", and "Customer Support". The main navigation bar includes "Health Topics", "Drugs & Supplements", "Videos & Tools", and "Español". On the left, there are three green boxes with icons: an apple for "Health Topics", a pill for "Drugs & Supplements", and a play button for "Videos & Tools". Each box contains a brief description of the category. On the right, there is a "Share MedlinePlus" section with social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, and Google+. Below that is a featured article titled "Do you or a loved one suffer from SAD?" with a "See our Seasonal Affective Disorder (SAD) page." link and a pagination control. At the bottom, there are sections for "Today's Health News" and "Stay Connected", which includes a sign-up for email updates.

All subscription databases are offered to you free of charge! We pick up the bill! All are scholarly sourced (meaning they are appropriate for school projects) and are simply digital copies of print material. Many include primary resources and information you can't find for free anywhere else.

Most can be accessed at home using your RHPL card - especially helpful for those "last minute" book reports and projects!

Millions of articles, reference books, encyclopedia entries, and journals right at your fingertips! Just go to rhpl.org and click on "Research."
